Area Civic, Business Leaders Pay Tribute to Bill Rashall

News of the sudden death of veteran newsman Bill Rashall spread throughout Southern California yesterday, and telephone calls, telegrams, and persons poured into the newspaper office to express their condolences.

Rashall, Sun promotion manager, was found about 11 a.m. yesterday slumped over his desk at The Desert Sun office, dead of a heart attack. All attempts by the fire department's resuscitator unit and two doctors, failed to revive the 49-year-old newsman.

FUNERAL SERVICES SET FOR TUESDAY

Funeral services for Bill Rashall will be held Tuesday at 10 a. m. at a High Requiem Mass from Our Lady of Solitude Catholic Church, with the Rev. Monsignor Powers, pastor, and the Rev. Fr. Joseph Leisler, pastor of St. Louis Catholic Church, officiating.

Rosary will be said Monday evening at 7:30 at Wiefels and Son Chapel.

Palbearers will be August G. Kettmann, Dr. Claude Church, Irwin Schuman, Judge Eugene Theriault, Ruby Rubenstein and Ward J. Risvold.

Honorary palbearers will be officers of the B.P.O. Elks Lodge 1905.

Interment will be in Palm Springs cemetery, with Wiefels and Son Mortuary in charge.

ly read Palm Springs features in The Desert Sun.

The part that Bill Rashall played in making Palm Springs a leading community is revealed in the following statements by local civic leaders and working companions:

SAID OLIVER Jaynes, Editor of the Desert Sun, in a telegram from Henderson, N. C.: "William Rashall was one of my closest friends and I will feel his loss keenly. He was on the staff of The Desert Sun when I took over the newspaper from Carl Barkow about 12 years ago and we had been closely associated through all the years.

"His contribution to the growth and progress of this newspaper was noteworthy and he will be greatly missed. His loyalty, energy and enthusiasm knew no bounds. He lived and loved his work in a way that few men do, right down to the last hour. Both The Desert Sun and Palm Springs have suffered a great loss."

AUGUST G. KETTMANN, Chief of Police of Palm Springs—"Bill was absolutely fearless and fought ceaselessly for any cause in which he believed. He was always waving the flag for Palm Springs. While we regret his passing, we are happy that he lived to see the realization of a retirement plan for city employees, which was his number one project until Jan 1 of this year.

"He had known for some years of his precarious health and I feel that this has been a subconscious conviction and physically affected him for a long time. Bill was a mean antagonist and a true friend."

MAYOR FLORIAN BOYD—"I liked Bill; he was a damn hard-working newspaperman and I respected his ideas. Palm Springs is going to miss Bill, and his remarks on this and that."

LOS ANGELES BUREAU of United Press, Bill Best, Wayne Sargent and Bob Bennyhoff—"Bill was a fine newspaperman, and well loved by all of us."

JIMMY COOPER, manager of the Chamber of Commerce—"Bill and I didn't always see eye to eye on things, but we were always good friends. I know he was first and foremost a newspaperman and first and foremost in his mind was the welfare of Palm Springs. He will be long remembered and respected by people in Palm Springs, and will be missed by me personally."

ROBERT W. PETERSON, city manager of Palm Springs—"It was indeed a shock to hear of the death of Bill Rashall. We are sorry to see anyone go who has been here for so long a time and who was so active in the affairs of the city."

THERESA PRESS, president of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board—"Bill Rashall covered many meetings for the Real Estate Board, and his death was a great shock to us. His love of Palm Springs, plus his courageous approach to controversial issues in his column, won him the admiration of many. Always a booster of Palm Springs, he had the faculty of keeping the people keyed to and conscious of the great potentialities of the town."

Merchants Plan Annual Banquet Tuesday Night

Annual banquet for the Palm Springs Retail Merchants Association is set for 8 p.m., Tuesday, at the Chi Chi Starlite Room, it was announced today.

The banquet, planned as a "strictly social affair," features dinner, entertainment and only a brief business program involving installation of officers and a few presentations.

Co-chairmen for the banquet program are Katie Nelson and Marge St. Cyr.

Elisa Rogers Wins Trades Queen Title

Palm Springs has a new queen in its royal circles today—Queen of Trades Elisa Rogers.

Queen Elisa received her crown at the Queen of Trades Coronation Ball, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, staged at the Palm Springs Playhouse last night.

The new queen, who represented the Palm Springs Doll House, was crowned and presented her trophy and $200 first prize by Dean Pickell, VFW chairman for the ball.

Runners up for membership in the royal court were Phyllis Monahan, of Shepard's Restaurant, who won the second prize of $100; Nancy Fowler, of Biltmore Hotel, $75; Valerie Hubbs, of Village Pharmacy, $50; and Beverly Cazel, representing Carr's Restaurant and the Desert Star Hotel, of Desert Hot Springs, who won the VFW district trophy.

All five candidates received trophies and floral bouquets. The queen and runners up were judged on the basis of the number of tickets each sold for the Coronation Ball.

Queen of Trades chairman was Diane Lind. Music, for dancing was played by the Premiers Orchestra.

THE WEATHER

Cloudbursts Bring Flood Danger Back to Texas; Cars Swept off Road

Write Today to CAB

(An Editorial)

Probably, the most important factor in the economy of a community which depends largely upon its visitors, is transportation. Hotels, cafes and other businesses which cater to tourists, of course, are important, too. They play their part, to be sure, but before they can do so, we must make it easy for the tourists to come here.

Air transportation, in this age, is of increasing importance. Every resident of Palm Springs who is interested in the progress and well-being of the Village, can, and should aid in every way possible to increase air service to Palm Springs.

You can do so by backing the current Chamber of Commerce and city campaign to bring additional air service to Palm Springs.

The way to back the drive is to write to members of the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, D.C., urging them to look favorably upon the petitions for improved air service here.

This can be done by writing any member of the CAB listed below and sending carbon copies, if possible, to the other members. A carbon should also be mailed the Chamber for their records.

Do not delay. The hearing will be held Tuesday.

Write today to:

Harmer Denny, CAB, Washington, D.C.; Oswald Ryan, Josh Lee, Joseph Adams and Chan Terry, all of the CAB at Washington, D.C.

All letters should refer to "Service to Phoenix Case, Docket No. 6247 et al."

For the betterment of Palm Springs, do it today.

Cathedral City Chamber To Study Highway Needs

Programming of future highway needs and action aimed at elimination of "blind" or obstructed street intersections was today scheduled by the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber also cast its "moral support" behind the Salton Sea Highway Association but refused to offer financial aid.

CHAMBER OFFICIALS agreed to list immediate and future highway needs for presentation at a joint meeting of the County Board of Trade and County Association of Chambers of Commerce on June 12.

The action followed a letter from the board of trade requesting that the chamber, anticipate area highway needs ranging from the present to 1967.

In a move to eliminate obstructed intersections, the chamber appointed a special three-man committee to contact property owners in the city area and request that obstructions be cleared or removed.

IN RESPONSE TO a request for financial aid by the Salton, Sea Highway Association, the chamber declined, noting that "it is outside our area and of no particular advantage to us even if built."

However, it was pointed out that "we still believe it to be a worthy project and give it our moral support."

Firemen Focus For Fish Fry

Armed with skillets and hefty appetites, and loaded with a few hundred pounds of fresh trout, Palm Springs fire fighters today prepared for their advance on O'Donnell Golf Course tonight.

The objective? The annual Firemen's Fish Fry, naturally.

The dinner bell rings at 7 p. m. for this gastronomic excursion. Tickets (if any are left) sell for $2 each. All proceeds go to the Firemen's Relief Association.

LARGEST AMOUNT ever collected in the Wishing Well at the Plaza was turned over to Mrs. Alice Hough, representing the Crippled Children of Riverside County, by Larry Pitts, son of Plaza official Zachary Pitts. The envelope contains $103, the largest sum ever collected in the charity well. This month's contributions will go to the Asthmatic Hospital for Children. (Desert Sun Photo.)

Palm Desert Chamber Aids Air Service Drive

Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce officials today gave their support to Palm Springs' campaign for airline service linking the resort with eastern metropolitan centers.

The Chamber also attacked Highway 111 traffic hazards and prepared for a meeting with the Riverside County Advisory Traffic Committee.

THE BOARD ALSO said it the Palm Desert chamber drafted a letter to the Civil Aeronautics Board endorsing the resort city's request for cross-country air service.

An oral hearing at CAB headquarters in Washington, D. C., is scheduled for May 15, at which time representatives of at least four airlines will bid for Village service.

THE BOARD ALSO said it would seek traffic advisory committee action on elimination of certain entrances and exits constituting a hazard on Highway 111.

The chamber is asking for intersections at only major streets and hopes to have a 45-mile-an-hour speed limit set for the Palm

County Planners to Have 15 Desert Area Matters

Three public hearings head a list of 15 desert area matters slated for consideration by the Riverside County Planning Commission at regular and special sessions in Riverside next Tuesday.

Scheduled for hearing are: APPLICATION FOR variance, permitting establishment of a retail nursery by Harold Mounsey in an R-1 Zone on the north side of Cypress Lane, near Los Alamos Road.

The M-3 case of Whitewater Trout Company's trailer court in the Whitewater trout pond and park area, five miles north of Highway 99.

Application by R. P. Hollister for addition to an existing trailer park in Tramview Village.

ALSO LISTED on the regular afternoon agenda is a request for approval of a plot plan calling for additional dwelling units in the area between Thunderbird and Tamarisk Country Clubs, submitted by Dorothy Bear and E. A. Beisner.

Items on the special meeting agenda include:

Consideration of Harold C. Thornton's variance request for reduction of his rear yard in Sunair Tract.

Tentative map on reversion to acreage of a portion of Ramnell's subdivision in Palo Verde Valley District.

TENTATIVE MAP on San Geronimo Pass No. 3, involving 499 lots one-half mile west of the Highway 111-99 junction.

Records of survey on three subdivisions in Thousand Palms and Desert Hot Springs areas.

Tentative map on Dos Palmas Tract, 200 lots, near Desert Hot Springs.

Record of survey on Ludlow Flower Jr.'s subdivision at Avenue 60, east of Jackson Street, Coachella Valley.

RICH SANDS Estates Unit 2, north of Ramon Road near Date Palm Road.

Request to improve and accept 44th Avenue and Cook Street, Palm Desert District.

Change of street name, changing Santa Gertrudis Drive to Bel Air Road in Pines to Palms Estates.

Appeal for extra donors to the San Bernardino-Riverside two counties Blood Bank Monday was renewed today by Desert Hospital Hospital Director Bob Henwood urged that Village donors exceed the normal 25-pint bank quota.

The bank visits the hospital from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday. Donations may be made in the name of a recently injured person, who required a large number of transfusions.

This will be the second to last visit of the mobile blood unit before operations are suspended for the summer.

One Death Reported in New Threat

Railroad Track Washed Out, Trains Trade Passengers

DALLAS, Tex. AP—New cloudbursts in Texas sent the Colorado River and the Rio Grande on dangerous rises today, washed out 78 feet of railroad track and swept automobiles from roads, drowning at least one person.

Far to the northeast, in northwestern Louisiana, new levees still held back a flood on Red River between Campt and Clarence, La., and Sheriff Earl Morris felt that if they held out "a day or two longer" the danger of a flood will have passed.

THE FLOOD DANGER in the southwest switched suddenly to west and southwest Texas, where rains up to seven inches were reported.

A wall of water surged across U. S. Highway 90 near Laughlin Air Force Base, Tex., and swept a car with six women in it into a narrow pit.

Mrs. Monroe Miller, 66, of San Antonio, sister-in-law of Maj. Gen. Elmer Adler, Ret., was drowned. The other five women clung to the doors of the car and were rescued. Two were put into hospitals for treatment for shock.

THE PECOS AND Devil's rivers rose sharply, causing a rise in the Rio Grande, into which they run. The Rio Grande was expected to crest at Del Rio soon at 20 feet, washing over approaches to the International Bridge.

Four other persons were reported to have been rescued from the flood in the same area where the four women with Mrs. Miller and the five women were washed off the road.

The Southern Pacific Railroad track washed near Del Rio stopped two trains.

The Southern Pacific's Sunset Limited train from California and The Argonaut, bound west from Houston, had to stop on either side of the washout. They traded passengers to continue their trips.

Erier simply bought a spot in Sun Classified Ads. Now someone else is peddling Erier's bike, and everybody's happy.

Way and Power Of Love to Be Subject Sunday

Christ Jesus gave the greatest commandment of all, "That ye love one another." Motherhood has always stood for the love which is self-givingness through the desire to express itself in the terms of creation. In this way the Mother re-enacts and knows God, for to know God is to love, and without love there is no knowledge of Him.

In her treatment of the subject, "The Way and Power of Love," Sunday morning at the El Paseo Theatre, Dr. Irma Glen will explain the Eastern concept of God as Divine Mother.

The musical portion of the services of the Church of Religious Science will include a special Mothers' Day Hymn, the composition of Dr. Glen, and the vocal classic, "Songs My Mother Taught Me" by Dvorak, and sung by soprano Miss Elaine Noble. All attending Mothers will be honored by a tribute in verse by Dr. Glen.

COMEDIAN LENNY GALE, rated as top flight master of ad lib, mimicry and fast quips, headlines the new show opening at the Chi Chi Starlite Room Sunday. The show, running through May 23, features Ventriloquist Bob Karl, billed as "The Illusionist of Voices," and Penny Conrad, the singing "girl next door."

WE ARE AS HAPPY
AS PRESIDENT EISENHOWER

In a letter which he wrote last week to Speaker Sam Rayburn President Eisenhower said: "I am sure many members of the Congress are as gratified as I am to note the growing awareness of private citizens that the dollars spent by the Federal Government are in fact their own dollars, and that Federal benefits are not free but must be paid for out of taxes collected from the people."

Many people were glad to learn that President Eisenhower and our national legislators have felt the public pulse and are becoming more economy minded. We are glad to know that this attitude on the part of taxpayers is appreciated by both the President and Congress.

It is indeed encouraging as Congress has reached the halfway mark to note that a determined effort is being made to reduce national spending. Eisenhower himself laid down ways to save almost two billion dollars although most of this was in sums the administration had not been expected to spend anyway in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The House figured it had voted cuts totaling a little over one billion in eight appropriation bills as proposed by Ike. None of these has as yet been considered by the Senate but it is believed that the upper house will join in a number of the budget cuts.

Tax Cuts Proposed

In order to get the jump on the other party both Republicans and Democrats are already beginning to talk about tax cuts. It does not seem likely however, as Speaker Rayburn suggests, that Congress will cut the budget enough to justify a tax cut. If Congress will only continue the present trend toward voting down Federal expenditures though, we can depend on some tax reductions within the next year or two.

There is little doubt that the present attitude of Congress was brought about by an upsurge of demands from all across the land that the present rate of Federal spending must stop, so keep right on writing your Congressman and Senators during the last half of the session when the biggest appropriation bills will be coming up for action. Let's keep the economy ball rolling.

JOHN MORLEY

The Case Against the Canadian Ambassador

We have just concluded a lecture tour through many of the 48 states from California to Maine. From every part of the nation liberal spokesmen have been very critical of the Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security's handling of the case involving the late Canadian ambassador, E. Herbert Norman, who committed suicide in Cairo recently.

Some of the liberal press accused Senator Eastland and Robert Morris of conducting another "McCarthy Witch Hunt." Some have gone so far as to accuse the Senate sub-committee of "pushing Ambassador Norman off the high building in Cairo," where he plunged to his death, by unwisely releasing testimony accusing Ambassador Norman of former Communist affiliations.

THE FEELING is shared officially by the Canadian government and press. Popular indignation at the United States has been aroused ever since the Senate committee released its charges against Mr. Norman.

The Senate sub-committee, performing its proper legal function, publicly released certain testimony of a former Communist indicating that at one time former Canadian ambassador to Egypt, E. Herbert Norman, had been a member of a Communist cell on Cape Cod.

THE CANADIAN government now claims that it had known all along of Mr. Norman's former Communist affiliations, but affirmed its confidence in his loyalty, which may be well founded.

But these charges against Ambassador Norman were not new. In 1951 another U.S. Senate Internal Security Committee released similar charges of Communist affiliations against Mr. Norman, which the Canadian government denied. At that time Mr. Norman was Canada's representative at the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco.

Instead of acknowledging familiarity with Mr. Norman's former Communist affiliations, the Canadian government issued a strong denial. Soon after Canada promoted Mr. Norman as ambassador to Egypt, indeed a very delicate assignment for a person so accused by the United States. It appears now that the Canadian government knew of Mr. Norman's former Red connections and made the appointment in spite of his record.

SOON AFTER THE release of the sub-committee testimony on his former Communist affiliations, Ambassador Norman went to the roof of his Cairo apartment house and jumped to his death. He left only a personal note to his wife saying in part "that life had become unbearable."

This suicide prompted the Canadian government to threaten to withhold any future information on mutual security if this information were to be publicly released to Senate committees. This implied that Norman's suicide was the result of mishandling of security information by the U.S. government. Nothing could be further from the facts.

AS RECENT AS a week ago Canada's minister of external affairs, Lester B. Pearson, led the Canadian people to believe "there was not a word of truth to the U.S. charges that Norman had ever been a Communist."

The following day, after the release of this statement, under pressure from conservative members of the Canadian parliament, the same Mr. Pearson admitted that "in his student days Norman was a member of the Communist party and openly associated with known Communists . . . but that he ultimately admitted to the Canadian government that he had followed mistaken beliefs and a false Communist ideology."

This belated revelation came as a shock to many Canadians who felt that their government had been less than frank with parliament and the people.

JOHN DIFENBAKER, leader of the Conservative opposition, announced that the Norman case would be an issue in the next election campaign. He further stated that if the government had made known its knowledge of Norman's former Red affiliations, he would have not been approved as ambassador to Egypt.

Probably Messrs. Eastland and Morris and other members of the Senate security committee were justified in their lack of confidence in the diligence of some foreign nations on security and espionage matters.

In our experience, Canadian and British loyalty has been notorious. U.S. investigators do doubt have vivid recollections of Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean spying in the innermost reaches of the British foreign office; Klaus Fuchs, Bruno Pontecorvo and other diplomats and scientists who escaped from Canadian and British soil as traitors, loaded with U.S. secrets entrusted to Canada and England.

MORE AMERICANS deplore the suicide of Ambassador Norman. But by his very act Mr. Norman raised many doubts about his personal stability and even the extent of his loyalty. For a person resorting to suicide under political pressure is certainly not the kind of person to be entrusted with such a highly critical diplomatic post as ambassador to Egypt.

In our opinion, it reeks with injustice to accuse the U.S. Senate, or any Americans, of responsibility with Ambassador Norman's suicide.

A MAN OF STRENGTH, loyalty and fortitude, of the manner described by his supporters in Canada and the U.S., and having clearance and the confidence of his own government, simply does not commit suicide on the testimony of a witness before the U.S. Senate Sub-committee. No one charged Mr. Norman with subversion.

He had ample opportunity to answer his accusers in the U.S. if he wished—or to ignore them—since evidently his government had ignored them in the past. Mr. Norman's true reasons for jumping to his death in all probability have died with him.

Keeping Things in an Uproar

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

What is there to write about in a mood that's dark and grey? One of the best friends I ever had, Bill, has gone away.

When you work for more than a decade with a guy, exchange views with him, argue with him, agree with him, his passing just has to leave a void.

Bill Rashall and I worked together as staffers on The Desert Sun from 1946 on. Before that, when he was public relations man at the airport here for the Air Transport Command, he wrote many special articles for The Desert Sun.

BILL AND I had many arguments, as almost every one in town and everyone in The Sun office, knows.

But, here's the point. Every one of those arguments was over what we individually thought was best for Palm Springs and, naturally, The Desert Sun.

Those were the only debates we ever had and we always wound up friends.

OUR APPROACH to local situations were different.

I preferred the drip, drip, drip of the water wearing away the stone.

Bill liked the sledge hammer method.

He got results, too.

For when he was on the right track, no holds were barred.

He threw round house punches from the floor if you mind my mixing up wrestling and boxing.

HE WAS A GREAT newswriter.

When he went after a story, he got it.

Many a time in the old days when news was scarce, even for a semi-weekly newspaper, I'd say:

"Look, Bill. We need a line story and we need it now."

"What's on your mind you old . . ." he'd ask with the usual flow of adjectives, delivered with affectionate intent.

"Nothing," I'd answer and he'd storm out.

Only to come back with something.

AS I SAID, Bill was tenacious when it came to getting a story. You couldn't throw him off the track.

Sometimes he was wrong, more often, right.

But he was always a newspaperman.

The story came first.

Turning back to an earlier remark, Bill and I fought like cats and dogs.

But we also had our quieter moments.

IN BULL SESSIONS over a quiet glass of grog, we'd philosophize about things. We often talked about death.

We were agreed there. Both of us believed that it should come quickly. And both agreed that the ideal way would be while at our desks, pounding on a typewriter.

Going out with our boots on. And Bill used to say to me. In fact, it was only Thursday that he said to me:

"Why, you antiquated old Emmeritus. When you go I am going to write the damndest obituary I ever wrote in my life about you."

Well, it didn't turn out that

INEZ ROBB:

No Charity Ward

One of the apparently unshakable American delusions of our time—and one that does the nation no good—is the idea fixe that the rest of the world is one vast charity ward supported by the idiot generosity of the United States.

To hear the opponents of foreign aid—just any foreign aid—tell it the world beyond our borders is a squalid poor farm, inhabited by lazy bloodsuckers, whose whole existence depends upon American handouts.

AS YOU CAN SEE, my dander is boiling up through my Easter bonnet today largely because of a Letter to the Editor, just printed in a New York newspaper. This letter, so typical of the cheap indictment of all foreigners and all things foreign, reads in part:

"They are planning a world's fair in Belgium and I see where Uncle Sucker is planning a multi-million-dollar project for this affair. After the fair is over, the kind U.S. will abandon its buildings to the Belgians for free. Can't we put the taxpayers' money to better internal use today?"

"WE'VE GIVEN enough to ungrateful foreigners without wasting more money on some silly exhibition."

Probably this massive would not have endangered my blood pressure if it were not predicated on an inaccuracy and if it had attacked any people other than the Belgians, a proud, self-supporting people whose gratitude to the United States for help in two world wars is one of its most conspicuous, endearing and constant traits.

Belgium is a rich nation that has no need of handouts from the United States. Except for American armaments that she receives through NATO (and she pays her full share of the NATO bill), Belgium receives nothing from "Uncle Sucker."

AGAIN, BELGIUM did not drop a gun on "Uncle Sucker" to force him to participate in its 1958 world's fair, any more than the United States forced Belgium to build its magnificent pavilion at New York's world fair in 1938. America is one of 48 nations participating in the Belgium fair, which our government has deemed a meritorious propaganda medium for the U.S.A. Furthermore, the United States is not going to leave any buildings behind for the benefit of rapacious and ungrateful foreigners. Part of the contract signed by the U.S.A. and all other countries with the Belgium fair board calls for the demolition of any and all buildings on the park site where the fair is to be located.

THERE ARE DAYS when I wonder how we manage to keep even one ally on our side, when even our best friends are continuously insulted as ungrateful beggars and worse.

The $4 billion item for foreign aid in the present budget will not keep the rest of the world living in riotous sloth at the expense of "Uncle Sucker." Of that sum $4 billion is for military aid for, when the chips are down, American defense.

If our own government had the courage to put that $4 billion where it belongs under our own military budget, there would be less misunderstanding about foreign "aid" at home and less justified indignation abroad when friends and allies are denounced as bloodsuckers, and ungrateful bloodsuckers, at that.

EARL WILSON:

Who's Carney, Anyway?

New York—Art Carney can face the truth—sad though it may be, it looks like Ed Norton, the happy sewer worker whom he created on TV, is going down the drain.

"I hate to see it end," Art admitted the other day at a Jackie Gleason rehearsal.

Chewing his gum soberly, and never making a joke, he admitted that the loud, boisterous, va-va-voom T-irted character who was frequently yelling "Sheeee! What a grouch!" at Gleason was better known to millions of TV watchers than Carney is.

"No matter what I do, there'll always be some people who don't like me. They'll want to see Ed Norton and to hell with me," he said.

RASHFUL, QUIET, serious-minded, a home-loving suburbanite who's on his way back to his family a few minutes after he's finished his program, Carney has a bright enough future regardless of what happens to Ed Norton—but he proclaims right off, "I'm a lousy m.c."

Therefore he isn't overanxious to have a big show of his own.

He can have the cream of the guest shots . . . but if Gleason is serious about not being on TV regularly next year, he'll keenly miss being Ed Norton of "the underground waterways."

IN THE SMALL print of the contract it says all the characters are Jackie's property, but I don't want to do Ed Norton without Gleason anyway," he said.

And as he said it, I called him "Norton"—which millions of other Americans do. To them Carney is now Norton, and Carney hardly exists.

"Norton" he added, "is always the underdog and, of course, sympathy is always with the underdog. That coupled with the fact that Gleason let me be funny and get the laughs, gets the best results out of me."

Ed Norton the sewer worker came into being around 1950 when two of Gleason's writers in those days, Coleman Jacoby and Arnie Rosen, told Jackie about Carney, suggesting he put him on the Gleason program, then at DuMont.

IN THE FIRST script I had with Gleason was a character that I thought I could do something with. I thought of the T-shirt, the hat in the house, and the vest. The sewer worker part came later on in a script sort of accidentally and just developed.

"I like it, because I can be myself, make mistakes in grammar, and be comfortable. I put a few things in, like . . . well, Norton's a sewer worker and when he writes a letter he's got to have everything neat and just so. He moves everything around the table, straightens the pad out, fixes the paper."

"Actually I got that from my father who was a newspaperman and had that habit," Carney laughed a little.

"I've never had a cross word with Jackie," Art said. There've been fights, of course, at rehearsals, but they've been with others and I've never been in them. It's been a happy time for me.

"IN MY DEAL WITH him I've always been allowed to do three outside shows every 13 weeks and most of the time I don't do that many."

"The Gleason show only takes two or three days of my time a week and sometimes not even that. I don't really have much to do the rest of the week. This week I'm only doing one sketch. I'm really stealing money this week."

Art's been offered six shots on Dinah Shore's program next year, or he might do his own half-hour show demonstrating how he can handle both comedy and drama.

"I'm not running away from my own show, but being an m.c. is just not my forte. When I've had to introduce anybody, I've dreaded it."

"HOW DID YOU GET into show business?"

"That's a funny thing," he answered, still with the chewing gum.

"My first job was with Horace Heidt and I got it right in this theater in 1936. I was here with my brother Jack, when Heidt was doing a radio show here. (Ralph Edwards was the announcer.)

"I was about eight months out of high school. During a break in rehearsal with my brother, who was an agent, he said, 'Horace, do you want to listen to my kid brother do some impersonations?'"

"A few weeks later I was on the show. We made one movie, 'Pot of Gold.' Do you remember it? Man it was awful!"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Freeman Chum tells of the mayor who attended one of those long, long movies: "He didn't know he was no longer mayor till he saw it in the newsreels."

Eddie Mayheoff told Joe E. Lewis how much he was paid for making beer commercials for TV, and Joe gasped, "You get PAID for drinking?" That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Groucho Has Sponsor Again

HOLLYWOOD—Groucho Marx's current sponsors will pick up the tab again next season for his "You Bet Your Life" series. It'll be The Groucho's eighth consecutive sponsored season.

NBC-TV is trying to team Bing Crosby and Inger Stevens for a Spectacular—a musical version of "Our Town"—The baseball battle between Dizzy Dean and Leo Durocher for TV-viewers is as hectic as the Sunday night Ed Sullivan-Steve Allen scramble.

Dennis Day popped with a party honoring his parents' 46th wedding anniversary—and when the McNulty clan gathers for a clam bake, brother it's like nothing you've ever seen!

Negotiations for MGM and 20th to combine their movie-making on one lot have come to a dead stop. Both companies, who planned it as an economy move, are waiting to see what happens to pay-TV. If the dice roll in their favor, they'll roll more movies. And that means they'll need more space than they have even now.

Rhonda Fleming is toying with the idea of starring in a new television about a femme private eye titled "The Private Eye." . . . Lauren Bacall's two-point explanation for not guesting on Mike Wallace's interview show: "When he told me he pays nothing to the person he interviews, I lost all interest. Also, I'm an outspoken gal (it's my training with Bogie)—and if I did go on with Wallace we might be bounced off the beam!"

CAROL CHANNING, who'll star in a situation comedy series being readied by Burns & Allen's McCadden Productions, tells me working for George Burns is like working for no body else. Says she: "At first George said he was going to have a child character written into the script. He said, 'Don't worry, Carol, she won't steal the show, she'll only be on briefly.' Next day he called me and said, 'Forget all about it, Carol—I had the writer kill off the kid!'"

Sign on a liquor establishment outside Television City: "Gentlemen Prefer Blois."

LANA TURNER, too-too busy shooting 20th-Fox's "Peyton Place," was forced to bow out as guestar on Dinah Shore's June 14 Chevy Show, drat it—and also she's so pretty too. . . . Timex set a new record for a series of TV programs when it signed to spend over $2,000,000 next season for six Bob Hope shows on NBC-TV. Those boys are gonna have to peddle a lot of timepieces to cover THAT contract.

As far as Monique Van Doren is concerned, there's a six-hour time difference between Los Angeles and New York, not three: "You lose three hours on the clock and another three getting into town from the airport."

GENERAL ARTISTS Corp. is the agent for both Perry Como and Julius La Rosa—which may have more to do with the fact that Julie will serve as summer replacement for Perry starting June 15. . . . Peggy King, who has always yenned to be a serious actress, will get to emote all over the place in Paramount's "Zero Hour." Little Miss Perky will co-star with Dana Andrews and Sterling Hayden—and will sing nary a note.

Fifty percent of next season's nighttime shows will originate in Hollywood—a hefty hike over last year. . . . Hubbell Robinson, CBS-TV's program chief, tells me that in his opinion the biggest mistake any network can make is to follow a formula or set pattern. "Any net," says Hub, "that makes a habit of bouncing on bandwagons is just two steps away from the fatal rut."

GEORGE SCHAEFER, producer-director of Hallmark Hall of Fame, tells me Hallmark's goal is to make its teleseries become to TV what Broadway is to the theatre. Judging from their outstanding productions—including "Cradle Song" and "The Turk"—I'd say they're well on their way.

Milton Berle, free as a bird and crowing over his release from TV jitters, shoved his hand in front of my eyes and said, "Look how my nails have grown since I left television!" Says Danny Thomas: "A lot of people who have no trouble whatsoever tracing their families back 200 years don't know where their kids were last night."

FAITH AND HOPE

(Elgin, Ill., Courier-News)

There's no prescription for faith and hope. The drug stores don't carry it and the doctors can't prescribe it. But medicine recognizes faith and hope as vital ingredients in a patient's recovery from crippling diseases.

Dr. George J. Boines testified to the power of the human spirit in a recent lecture before the scientific assembly of the American Academy of General Practice in St. Louis. Dr. Boines said

'World Religions' To Be Sermon Sunday Night

"Nor is it for them alone, (his Apostles) that I make this request. It is also for those who trust in me through their teaching; that they may all be one, even as Thou art in me, O Father, and I am in Thee; that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that Thou didst send me. Jesus in John 17:20-21.

"Unh among all believers in our Lord may be more nearly attained, and sweet Christian fellowship more widely enjoyed by believing and practicing the teachings of the men who first believed in the Christ. This teaching is contained alone in the words of the Apostles in the New Testament."

Dr. J. Jerome Hogan, minister of the Church of Christ which conducts Lord's day services in the City Council chambers, spoke the above in his continuing series on the subject, "The World's Great Religions." The series will continue each Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Hogan added: "It is quite singular and very interesting that the world's great religions have all had their origin in the Orient. The Occidental world has become the birthplace of sects and isms which have produced segments of Christianity. The freedom of the exercise of conscience in religious matters as guaranteed by our Constitution has brought about this division in Christianity, we believe it was not the Divine plan."

Guest Speaker To Preach At DHS Baptist

Dr. Miles Dawson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, San Bernardino, will be the guest speaker Sunday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, First and Cactus Streets, in Desert Hot Springs.

Dr. Dawson is the author of several books, many articles of religious periods and the founder of the Baptist Seminary in Mexico City. He will show pictures of his tours of Mexico and the Baptist churches there. His message will be in regard to the missionary program of the church.

His son, David, will play the organ for the evening service. David is an outstanding organist, having played with some of America's leading musicians.

The Rev. Gordon Gilbert, pastor invites the public to attend this featured service.

Safe Playing Is Safety Slogan

Safety slogan to be observed in schools in the Palm Springs Unified District next week is "Never play games on the streets, use the playgrounds," according to George Bond, school safety director and transportation superintendent.

Each week a different slogan is selected, to be repeated by students as they board buses en route to or from school.

'Certain Women Amaze Us' Is Sermon Topic

"Certain Women Amaze Us" is the sermon topic by the Rev. Richard A. Uzzel at the First Baptist Church in Thermal next Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service. On Mother's Day, mothers who are present will be given special recognition.

A dedication service also will be held for parents with new babies. Don Wire will render a vocal solo.

A dedication service also will be held for parents with new babies. Don Wire will render a vocal solo.

This Sunday will be observed as "Penny March Sunday" with the offering going to the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School, and American Baptist seminary for the training of religious workers. It is located in Berkeley.

The Evening Worship at 8 p.m. will feature hymn and chorus singing led by A. J. Wignington, a vocal solo by Miss Marcy Hagerty, and a Bible Sword Drill contest. Velvet Mann is leading in the contest which began last Sunday. The minister will bring the sermon, "Wings for Worms."

Chapter 14 of Gospel To Be Sermon Theme

The Rev. William Blondon, rector, will preach at the 11 a.m. service of morning prayer, basing his theme on the 14th Chapter of the Gospel according to St. John.

Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m. and the Family Service will convene in the church at 9:15 a.m. The adult class following the worship service, under the leadership of the Rector, will continue a summary and analysis of the study of the Old Testament, which has been going on for the past few months.

The missionary film, "Heartbeat of Haiti," will be shown in the parish hall tomorrow evening beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Adam, Fallen Man Is Sermon Of Scientists

The Lesson-Sermon "Adam and Fallen Man" in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, develops the theme of awakening from the "deep sleep" which fell upon Adam, to the glory of man in God's image.

The sermon commences with the first verse from Genesis, "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth," and continues with these affirmations from the same chapter, "So God created man in his own image. . . . And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good" (1:1, 27, 31).

This theme is continued in statements by Mary Baker Eddy from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," "Man, made in His likeness, possesses and reflects God's dominion over all the earth." "Knowledge of this lifts man above the sod, above earth and its environments, to conscious spiritual harmony and eternal being." (pp. 516, 521).

Carrying out the same theme, the Golden Text quotes Paul's admonition to the Ephesians (5:14): "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

Mothers Day To Be Marked With Sermon

Mother's Day will be observed in the Palm Desert Community Church on Sunday, with the Rev. Warren McClain preaching the sermon on "The Mother."

Mrs. Henry Cheesman will be soloist, and the Sacrament of Baptism will be observed. The service starts at 11 a.m.

Guest speakers are scheduled for the following two Sundays when the Rev. McClain will be on temporary duty as a captain at March Air Force Base. They are: The Rev. Gerry Latham, hospital chaplain for the Coachella Council of Churches, May 19, and the Rev. J. Ian Eraser.

Phrase From Marriage Vow Selected As Sermon Theme

"As Long as We Both Shall Live," a phrase from the marriage vow, has been selected by Dr. James Blackstone, Jr., pastor of the Community Church of Palm Springs, as the subject of a message on the Christian Home at the 11 o'clock Sunday morning service. God has established the pattern of the home in His Holy Word and true happiness can be found only as we live according to that pattern, Dr. Blackstone said.

The morning service will also include the presentation of bouquets of roses, prepared by Mrs. John W. Williams, to representative mothers. This has been a traditional part of the Mother's Day service in the Community Church for many years. The Chancel Choir under the leadership of Elmer Young Sr. will sing the "One Hundred Fiftieth Psalm" by C. Franck.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL sessions are held at 9:30 each Sunday morning with classes of instruction for all age groups. At 11 o'clock classes are held for the younger children with a Junior Church and Primary Church. These sessions are proving to be very interesting to the children. At 6:15 Christian Endeavor groups meet for both the Junior High and Senior High Young People.

WAIF Album Drive Gets Under Way

Under the able guidance of Mrs. William Malouf, first president of the WAIF chapter in Palm Springs, plans are being made this month to launch the drive for the WAIF Album. This publication is made up of pictures and pages donated by worthy citizens, and all will be assembled in an artistic book to be presented to those who donate. It will be printed just before the next Formal Ball set by the local chapter of WAIF next winter.

Before home owners and guests leave for the summer, Mrs. Malouf is calling a final meeting of the group working on the Album and interested WAIF members in her home Monday, May 22.

Appointed by the president to head committees for the publication are: Jan King, chairman of the Album, with Mrs. Walter Braunschweiger, co-chairman. Assisting these two will be: Mrs. Ben Gale, editor, with Mrs. John Costello; Mrs. John Dawson with Mrs. George Wheeler, art editors; Mrs. S. P. Manasse, treasurer.

Others working in various sections include: Mrs. Orpha Frank, chairman of celebrities; Mrs. Charles Farrell, Racquet Club members; Mrs. Paul Trousdale, Smoke Tree Ranch; Mrs. Russell Wade, Tahquitz Estates; Mrs. George Robertson with Mrs. Charles Becker, Committee of Twenty Five; Mrs. John Dawson, Thunderbird Country Club; Mrs. Edwin Fallgren with Mrs. William Malouf, visitors to Palm Springs; and the committee-at-large is: Velma Silverman, Dorothy Gray Brown, Mrs. Glenn Austin, Mrs. Belmont Sanchez and Mrs. Howard Morris.

Mother's Day Tea

Sigma Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will hold their annual Mother's Day tea at the home of Mrs. Keith Herbert at 1153 North Palm Canyon Drive on Sunday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 4. The tea will honor a local mother whose name has not yet been revealed.

Villager Abroad For Six Weeks

Mrs. L. M. Cominator of Tamarisk Apartment Hotel, Palm Springs, arrived in Europe May 6 via Trans World Airlines' Super-G Constellation after a transatlantic flight from New York.

Mrs. Cominator was among the many persons taking tours of Europe, according to TWA travel officials, who estimate that travel on its transatlantic routes this summer will increase more than 10 per cent.

Mrs. Cominator is on her way to join a Dobois tour by chartered bus, through Europe. While in London, Mrs. Cominator will be staying at the Mount Royal hotel. The tour is going to last for approximately six weeks.

Fete Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Funsinn of 1090 Calle de Maria celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary Wednesday evening by dining with friends in the Chi Chi Starlite Room.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

Once upon a summertime... not too long ago... the last half of May found the social calendar nothing but a shuffling of blank, white pages... The Village with its hedges of full-blooming white oleanders was beautiful as it is now...

The weather compared favorably with other resorts... but the tourists had scattered and Villagers were recuperating from another hectic winter season... A quick look at the calendar for the next three weekends is convincing evidence that times have changed... Like the one for May 25... when there are four things scheduled to take place simultaneously...

Already scheduled... we find Desert Air's great luau... that night... with our favorite songbird George Kainapau as a drawing card... That's the night of the premiere of Jerry Leis's newest film "The Delicate Delinquent" at the Plaza Theatre...

Returning to the States in August... they will vacation at Cape Cod... returning to the Village in time for the children to re-enter Katherine Finch school...

Georgia and Gus Kettmann had a brief holiday in the Big Town... and chatted briefly with Gwen Bari when they were in Mike Lyman's... Gwen goes abroad on a singing tour... sailing from New York on the Queen Elizabeth on May 15... She lands in Cherbourg, goes on to Paris... and then to Milan, Italy for her first engagement... In July she'll be appearing in Berne, Switzerland...

That night, too, Ethel and Jack Luccarelli will be hosting a cocktail-buffet at their Smoke Tree Ranch home... honoring their weekend houseguests, Christy Fox and her husband Ludlow Shonard...

The last drop of liquid is flowing from the cocktail glass... the flowers are wilting on their stems... and a broken down old nag with its tongue hanging out... sets the hilarious tone for the invitations which Vicki and Billy Malouf have sent out... for their End O' the Trail party... to be held at their Via Las Palmas home on May 26...

Around 100 people have been invited to this al fresco affair... which will have a band for dancing... and will be the last of a series of affairs which the Maloufs have hosted this year...

Beth Scott and her parents, the Albert Scotts of San Diego will leave June 9... to fly to Mexico City for three weeks... They will headquarter there and fly to Acapulco for a week... and make side trips to Taxco, Cuernavaca and other spots of interest.

Buddy and Caroline Morris and their two youngsters Steve and Chris are flying to Paris on June 21... and plan to spend some time in the south of France before going on to Switzerland...

Junior-Senior Prom Theme Is Mystery

With a mystery theme and the identity of the queen a well-kept secret, this year's Junior-Senior Prom will be held at the Racquet Club on Saturday night, May 18, beginning at 8 p.m.

Preparations for the biggest social event of the school year, which is given by the Junior Class are already in full swing under the direction of Junior Class president Haig Harris Jr. The affair will be catered by Santos, who is planning an elaborate buffet.

Chairman of decorations, which are rumored to be unique, is Bonnie Woodmansee.

Crowning of the Prom Queen will be a highlight of the evening with Sue Arnsberg, Stephanie Bruton, Fern Fox and Sharon Smith senior class members vying for the honor. The queen's identity will not be revealed until the coronation.

The dance is open to juniors, seniors or graduates of any high school when accompanied by a member of the present junior or senior class of Palm Springs High School and is limited to 90 couples.

Chaperones for the evening are: Miss Hilda Haigazan, William Larson, Chester McCarthy, Mrs. Moya Henderson, Mrs. Virginia Gordon, John Kellogg and George Scholl.

CELEBRATING her 10th birthday, Pamela Sheptenko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Sheptenko, was hostess at a party at the family home on El Camino Way. Guests were classmates from the fourth grade in Cahulla School. (Pospelil Photo).

Party Fetes 10th Birthday

The garden patio at the El Camino Way home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter B. Sheptenko was a pretty sight as their daughter Pamela celebrated her tenth birthday by entertaining classmates from the fourth grade at Cahulla School. Games and square dancing added to the gala evening. A May Day motif prevailed with prettily-wrapped gifts and favors and the dinner concluded with a candied cake with a colorful maypole effect.

Thirty-six friends were present to sing "Happy Birthday" to Pamela.

Patio Party Is Surprise For Birthday

A patio party, complete with dancing, punch, cake, ice cream and a lot of gag gifts such as yo-yos and skip ropes, was a complete surprise for Mrs. M. W. Addes Wednesday night on her birthday.

The party was hosted by Dr. and Mrs. George M. Milke and while Mr. and Mrs. Addes were having dinner at the Swiss Chalet, the party gathered at the Milkes' home on Camino Amapola. They then proceeded to the Palo Verde street home of the Addesses, where they found the unsuspecting couple watching television.

Those enjoying the gala affair were: Dr. and Mrs. Ray Baddour, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross, John Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brahmene, Mr. and Mrs. Duke Masterson and daughter Ginny, Mr. and Mrs. Jim George, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bangs, all of Palm Springs.

Others were: Mr. and Mrs. George George and Dave Beyrouthy of Desert Hot Springs and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas of Indio.

G.A.A. Holds Annual Picnic

The Girls Athletic Association held its annual picnic at the high school Wednesday evening, under the supervision of the Girls' Athletic teacher Moya Henderson.

First on the schedule of events was a swim party, followed by a picnic supper of hot dogs and beans. Volleyball in the gym was after supper diversion.

Several faculty members and their families attended the picnic.

Camp Fire Girl Leaders Hold Final Meeting

The Camp Fire Girls Leaders Association held their last meeting at the home of Mrs. Harriett Hendrickson, chairman. Many things were discussed for the coming season. One important decision was that the Awards Committee, with chairman Mrs. Lois Payne, will set up two Grand Council Fires each year, and girls working on rank may pass on either of these dates which will be available next October, 1957.

A place to store and show trophies during the summer months was discussed but nothing decided, therefore they will be kept at the home of the secretary Mrs. Jacques Moe, 572 North Calle Marcus.

Others present at the meeting were Mrs. Kathie Beckwith, vice chairman; Mrs. Ethel Hurst, treasurer; Mrs. Rusty Sepherd, historian.

Camp Fire Girls Have Swim Party

In lieu of their regular meeting this week, the Lu-Ton-Da Camp Fire Girls enjoyed a swim party at the home of Susan Stovall, 271 Camino Monte Vista. The girls participated in relay races and other swimming games. Many of them have passed Red Cross swimming tests and are working toward higher ranks this summer which they hope to obtain at Camp Nawakwa, Seven Oaks, California.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served. Those present were Gail Rector, Patricia Payne, Margaret Soran, Noele Hendrickson, Diane George, Ruby Hurst, Ourdoli Rockov, Cathie Bard and Linda Burk.

Wyatt Earp Just Wasn't A Cowboy

Editor's Note: Aline Mosby is on vacation. In her absence, Hugh "Wyatt Earp" O'Brien answers a recent United Press column in which former cowboy star Gail "Big Boy" Williams blasted Hugh's fancy western attire for television.

By HUGH O'BRIAN
Written for The United Press

HOLLYWOOD — It was interesting to read Gail "Big Boy" Williams' comments on the clothes I wear as TV's Wyatt Earp. He said if any real cowboys saw me in my usual Wyatt Earp get-up they would split their sides laughing. It wouldn't concern me, because on my Wyatt Earp show I don't play a cowboy.

By definition, a cowboy or "cowman," as he was called was a man who traveled the trail driving a herd of cattle to a particular destination. These men would have indeed looked silly dressed as Wyatt Earp. Even the cows would have had to laugh at this one.

Wyatt Earp was not a cowboy. He lived in town and was more like the city policeman of today. He wore the typical garb of a marshal of that time—the vest, black coat and matching hat, and striped pants. If he did happen to be out on the trail doing a job, he would dress like the typical cowboy we know.

In fact, when Wyatt first accepted his job as marshal he had only his "trail" clothes. The townspeople offered to chip in and buy him his first "town" wardrobe so that he could dress in keeping with the new job.

If Mr. Williams would care to check the authenticity of the styles depicted on our show, he has but to check any public library or costume company.

Our technical adviser on the show is Stuart N. Lake, who spent four years with Earp before he died. He is considered a supreme authority on this period and works on all phases of our show. His is the only authorized biography of Earp ever published.

Our script supervisor is Frederick Hazlitt Brennan, the father of all westerns. He did the first 10 scripts of our show and supervises all of them to make sure the writers conform to the character of Earp, as well as his manner and dress.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Corliss have as their houseguests his mother Mrs. Thomas Turner and his sister Mrs. Claire Willis from St. Helena, California.

Excessive quantities of bleach do not whiten fabrics any better or faster, but can weaken them.

Toastmistress Has Discussion Of 'Social Graces'

"Social Graces" was the theme for Toastmistress Club of Palm Springs when they met Wednesday evening in the St. Paul's parish hall. Topic Mistress Theora Wight presented the theme and called on members to give impromptu speeches on tipping, culture, a good hostess, conversation, protocol. Adding to this, Josephine Moon discussed the social graces of Europe as she found them on a recent trip there.

As speaker of the evening Margo Morrison, spoke on "Living with Others," stressing the thought of living by the Golden Rule. Jane Dill emphasized her speech "Graceful Flight" by using modeling clay to model a bird in flight. Her simile was that to participate in graceful living, people need to liken their lives to that of a bird, with the body, education, the wings, experience, the head, knowledge, and the tail the balance of honesty and truth.

Guests in attendance were Hannah Smoad, Dorothy Owens and Gertrude Anderson.

Plans Luncheon For Staff Aides

Mrs. L. C. Cotner of Palm Desert, who is resigning her office as chairman of the Red Cross staff aides in the Coachella Valley branch of the American Red Cross, will have as her guests at the May meeting of the Palm Desert Woman's Club, the women who have served with her for the entire two years of her chairmanship.

The guest list includes staff aides Lydia Roen, Evelyn Smith, Dorothy Swartz, Lynn Squires, Maude Fitzgerald, Belle Keightley, Lela Thompson, Mercedes Merryman, Marge Brown, Pat Steels and Gretchen Cheesman, all of Palm Desert, Betty Campbell of Rancho Mirage and Clara Cherus of Indio. Also present as an honor guest will be Jacqueline Downing Myers of Palm Desert, official administrative assistant of this branch, under whose direction this volunteer group has worked.

Wrap Asparagus In Blankets

Here's a novel way to serve fresh asparagus. Roll biscuit dough out to a circle about 12 inches in diameter. Cut into six wedges, like pie slices. Place several cooked asparagus spears at the wide end of each wedge and roll up. Place on a greased baking sheet and bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Serve hot with a creamy cheese sauce.

Pan-Hellenic Elects Officers

New officers were elected and installed Thursday when Coachella Valley Pan-Hellenic held its luncheon meeting at Shadow Mountain Club.

Mrs. Francis Pruitt, retiring president, installed the following new officers: president, Mrs. J.A. Johnson of Indio; vice president, Mrs. Arthur Smith of Palm Springs; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Ewing of Palm Springs; secretary, Mrs. Leland Yost of Thermal.

Following the election and installation, Mrs. Shelby Wegner reviewed "To See the Dream" by Jessamyn West.

This was the final meeting for Pan-Hellenic before the summer recess, with meetings to be resumed in October.

Luncheon Bids Two Farewell

The luncheon was hosted by Mrs. Virginia McLaughlin at her San Lorenzo Road home on Thursday was a farewell to friends, who are leaving for the summer. Honored were, Mrs. William Marcy, who is returning to her home in Buffalo, and Miss Teresa Fields, who leaves next month for a trip to the Orient.

Pink and white flowers decorated the luncheon tables, which were set up around the swimming pool. After luncheon, swimming and cards were enjoyed.

Those bidding farewell to the departees were Mmes. William Cody, Joseph Malone, Charles Becker, Grace Pope, Robert Backstrom, Boyd Chiles, Edmund Dunne, Walter McManus.

Keep track of loose snaps in the sewing basket by snapping them together on a piece of cheesecloth.

Pirates Are Party Guests On Birthday

Mutiny on the bounty is just about what happened at the J. R. Wahlberg home on Paseo de Anza this morning when a swarm of little pirates took over to help Chris Wahlberg celebrate his seventh birthday.

Pirate decorations formed the motif throughout the house and the little guests made their own pirate hats and swords.

Little pirates enjoying hot dogs, chocolate milk, birthday cake and ice cream were Jeff Arnold, Christine Loftus, Billy Metzner, John and Skipper Boothby, Billy and Dickie Spargur, Franklin Fredrickson and Chris' three sisters, Holly, Karen and Heidi.

Junior Women's Club Elects New Officers

At a well attended meeting, the Cathedral City Federated Junior Woman's Club elected officers for the ensuing year. At the helm will be Mrs. Kenneth Squires as president, with Mrs. Thomas Brindle, vice president; Mrs. Harold Bentley, recording secretary; Mrs. Duane Krings, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bill Ridley, treasurer; Mrs. George Rodman, auditor, and Mrs. Bill Hoppe, parliamentarian.

Betty Youngberg presented her interesting and attractive interchangeable jewelry. Guests in attendance were Mrs. Donna Awallt, Mrs. Tom Hamilton, Mrs. Jean Foot, Mrs. Clifford Sharp, Mrs. Tom Donohoe and Mrs. Donald Moser.

Toss Throw Rugs In Safe Places

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—The housewife who is a "throw rug" fan should be careful where she throws them. There are even some places in the home where throw rugs should not be used at all—for instance, on stair landings and at the head and foot of the stairs.

SPORTS PARADE TODAY'S

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP)—Fearless Fraley's facts and figures:

Spitball pitching has become much more widespread in the National League since Warren Giles cleared Lew Burdette, players insist privately, and the only reason there are no squawks is because every club has at least one pitcher throwing the "dew-drop."

There's a new gimmick, too, with some of the spitball tossers going to their hair for a "vase-line pitch" which works the same way. When Giles cleared Burdette that was all the challenging Birdie Tebbetts wanted. He now has two spitball pitchers on his staff—and is said to be instructing others.

HORSEMEN ARE considering the strange possibility that Calumet Farm possibly could manage the never-accomplished feat of winning the Triple Crown with three different horses. They theorize that on the heels of Iron Leige's Kentucky Derby win, the barn could take the Preakness with Gen. Duke and the Belmont Stakes with Barbizon. However, the word is that Barbizon will not be ready for the Belmont.

Howard Capps recalls with a grin when he was teaching Ray Haywood, sports columnist of the Oakland, Calif., Tribune, how to play golf. Ben Hogan came to town in a tournament and Capps told Haywood to follow him and watch Ben's style.

"But don't bother him," Capps said. "He won't talk anyhow." "You were wrong about Hogan not talking," Haywood said the next day. "Why, he spoke to me the first time I walked over to where he was playing."

"Yeah?" Capps inquired incredulously.

"Yep," Haywood replied. "He said 'Watch out for your shadow there, Bud!'"

ELLIE NOYES, Dartmouth track coach, looks well into the future. Recently a couple of kids asked him to judge their race around the block.

"Go twice around, kids," Ellie said. "I'm going to be needing distance runners in a few years."

Then there was Clayton Heafner's reaction when a galleryite crowded in on him as he started to play a shot and demanded, "What club you playing?"

"A two iron," Heafner replied. "Think it's enough club?" the guy puzzled.

"Fellah," said the glaring Heafner, "if you'll just stand back about 10 feet, we'll both find out."

Bob Baker Injured

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Heavyweight Bob Baker of Pittsburgh and six other persons suffered minor injuries in a three-car collision here Friday. Baker suffered a bruised hand.

Decision On Score's Sight Waited Today

Doctors Hopeful of Examination to Settle Question

CLEVELAND (AP)—The question of whether Herb Score will be able to resume his brilliant pitching career with the Cleveland Indians may be answered today.

Physicians were hopeful of making a complete examination of the young hurler's right eye, which was injured Tuesday night when Score was hit in the face by a sizzling liner from the bat of New York shortstop Gil McDougald.

Since the accident, doctors issued cautious predictions that Score would retain his sight in the eye unless unexpected complications developed.

The doctors, headed by Cleveland eye specialist Dr. Charles Thomas, admitted that a definite decision concerning Score's eye could not be made until a full examination. That was prevented by a severe hemorrhage which occurred when the ball hit him.

The doctors late Friday issued a medical report saying "Things continue to look very encouraging, and we may know much more about the injury Saturday." They also said they had postponed indefinitely the taking of X-rays to determine the extent of any possible damage to bones surrounding the injured eye.

Ortega May Wait Until November For Title Chance

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Gaspar Ortega of Mexico may have to wait until next November for the welterweight title shot he earned by again scoring an upset, split decision over Cuba's Isaac Logart in their 12-round "rubber" elimination match Friday night.

Lanky Ortega's second triumph in their three fights won him recognition as top contender for the 147-pound crown in the eyes of the New York State Athletic Commission, at least.

But managing director Harry Markson of the International Boxing Club said today: "Perhaps Basilio will postpone his next defense until after he challenges Sugar Ray Robinson for the middleweight title in September."

Marilyn Smith Leads

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan., takes a two-stroke lead into today's third round of the $7,500 Gatlinburg Women's Open Golf tournament. Miss Smith needed just 30 putts Friday when she shot a one-over-par 74 to take the lead at the halfway mark with a 149.

Frick Puts Gag on Talk of Any Major Moves to Coast

NEW YORK (AP)—The wheels continued turning today in the machinery that eventually may bring the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles and the New York Giants to San Francisco, but baseball Commissioner Ford Frick placed a "gag" order on all parties involved.

Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco discussed the possible transfer of a major league franchise to this city at a meeting Friday with Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, and owner Horace Stoneham of the Giants.

Christopher admitted, "We discussed the possibility of bringing major league baseball to San Francisco."

Stoneham also said as much but added that he and all other parties were prohibited from commenting further because of a telegram to that effect sent by Frick.

"I won't give up until we have major league baseball in San Francisco," Christopher said. "I'm frank in saying major league baseball on the West Coast is an eventual must. It's going to happen some day and I can't say if immediately or later."

Expect New Vault Record By Gutowski

Other Marks May be Erased in Annual Fresno Meet Today

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Pole vaulter Bob Gutowski of Occidental and sprinter Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian share the spotlight here today in the 31st annual West Coast Relays.

Gutowski, who smashed the 15-year-old record by Cornelius Warmerdam two weeks ago, will attempt to crash the height barrier of 16 feet in this show-pushed by young Ronnie Morris of Southern California, who has topped 15 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

Gutowski has a mark of 15 feet, 8 1/4 inches now and he says he is in shape to make a try at the 16-foot mark.

The 100-yard dash will feature, along with Morrow, his Olympic Games teammate Leamon King of California; Mike Agostini of Trinidad and Fresno State; and Ray Norton of San Jose State. All have been timed in 9.4 or better—one tenth of a second off the world mark.

"If we could get good weather conditions," says meet director J. Flint Hanner, "the track is fast enough so that we might see a 9.2 mark. That's how strong the competition will be."

But so far the weather man has refused to cooperate. Instead, he has predicted clouds and showers. More than 1500 athletes have been entered in the all day and all night athletic festival. The junior colleges, high schools and freshmen teams will have most of their competition in the afternoon. The major events will be staged at night, starting at 6 p. m. and running until near midnight.

The shot put competition this year will leave something to be desired. World champion Parry O'Brien has announced he will compete only in the discus.

PHILLIES BIG SURPRISE IN NATIONAL LOOP RACE

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
Everyone kissed the Phillies off this spring as a club that would put the fans asleep.

There were not so many today as the Phils, winners in six of their last eight games, climbed to within three games of the first place Braves.

Rookie Jack Sanford chalked up his fourth straight victory without a defeat in beating the Pirates, 3-1, Friday night with a three-hit effort.

And Granny Hamner, the guy who was supposed to be all washed up, smacked his second homer since reclaiming his second base job.

SANFORD, a returning serviceman who sometimes suffers from numbness in his throwing arm, exhibited a mighty live fast ball in striking out 10 batters. Ronnie Kline went down to his fourth defeat without a victory.

In other National League games Johnny Logan drove in five runs while leading Milwaukee to a 10-5 victory over St. Louis; Willie Mays, fresh out of a hospital, paced the Giants in a 2-1 triumph over the Dodgers. The Cincinnati-Chicago game was postponed by rain.

THE WHITE SOX took over sole possession of the American League lead with a 6-4 decision over the Tigers; the Orioles handed the Yankees their third consecutive loss, 4-1; the Indians defeated the Athletics, 4-1, and the game between the Red Sox and Senators was wiped out by rain.

Logan did the damage against the Cards with a home run, two singles and a double as rookie Juan Pizarro went all the way for

Besselink Leading By One at Arlington

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Al Besselink carried a one-stroke lead into the third round of the $20,000 Arlington Open golf tournament today.

He has his work cut out for him however, since four men are only one stroke back of his 138, and a half dozen others are bunched at 140, three at 141 and five more at 142.

You're Wrong If You Think Fish Drink Water

A fish opens and closes his mouth to force water through his gills to get oxygen; what water is needed is taken in with food and through the skin. BUT you're right if you think Classified Ads are the best way to go fishing for offers, whether it's a situation or a business opportunity you seek. FIRST COMMUNION was given Sunday to eighteen children at Our Lady of Guadalupe Indian Reservation Catholic Church, by Rev. Father Flahive, standing in back. Those receiving their first communion were, left to right, first row, Edward Lario, Rickey Budsey, Frank Engolia, Terry Budsey, Joe Valdez, Michael Balderas, Edward Martinez and Omar Valdez. Second row, left to right, Celia Balderas, Lydia DeLavara, Lydia Pena, Paula Barajas, Ophelia DeLavara, Tina Engolia, Sidonia Valdez, Carmen Duran, Florida Migual and Rebecca Martinez. Following Church services, the group went to the Deep Well for a Communion Breakfast. A breakfast included Mimes, Marci Gabriel, Rafael, M. Engolia and H. M. Webb. (Desert Sun Photo.)

Chinese Find 'Rarest' Trees

TOKYO AP—Communist Chinese experts have found rare varieties of trees known to have existed a million years ago, Radio Peiping said today.

The broadcast heard here said the trees were found in southern Yunnan province on the border of their tropical monsoon belt. It said the species have become extinct in most parts of the world since the glacial invasion.

Elks Lodge Invites Public To Attend Mothers Day Fete

There will be presentation of a Mother's Day program by the Palm Springs B. P. O. E. Elks No. 1905 at the Plaza Theatre at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, and the public is invited to attend and assist in paying tribute to their mothers. A diversified program has been planned by the Mother's Day Committee that will appeal to the whole family, it was stated. The program will begin with the showing of selected short subjects followed by the Elks Ritual for observance of Mother's Day. MUSICAL TRIBUTES to "Mother" will be given by a quartet with Hugh Givens, Dr. A. O. Fitzmorris and Bill Paxton. Mrs. Lois Lutz will be featured at the organ. Interpretation of "Mother" will be given by the Rev. John B. Church; Rabbi Leon W. Rosenberg of the Jewish Community Center; and the Rev. R. M. O'Donohue, pastor of St. Theresa's Catholic Church.

SPECIAL HONOREE of the local Elks Lodge will be Mrs. Rose McKinney who has four sons who are members of Palm Springs Lodge. Eldon, Willard, Ted and Don McKinney who will be escorts to their mother. Chairman Jack Riordan has asked that all residents of Palm Springs who wish to pay tribute to their mothers assist by attending this program.

Father Drowns With Son in Futile Rescue

GRUNDY, Va., AP—A father attempting to rescue his son from the waters of the Levisa River drowned with the boy Thursday. A girl the son had playfully pushed into the water, touching off the tragedy, was revived with artificial respiration. The victims were identified as David Blankenship, 34, and his son, Thurman, 14, of nearby Harman, Va. Police said the two were fishing along the river when Lydia Endicott, 14, and Bertha Mullins, 14, began wading nearby. Young Blankenship playfully pushed Lydia into the water and then fell in himself. When David got into water over his head, the boy's father dived in to save him. A passing bus driver rescued Lydia but the bodies of the father and son weren't found for a half hour. They were locked together.
